

MASTER OF ARTS IN THE FIELD OF MEDIA AND STRATEGIC COMMUNICATION

The master's program in media and strategic communication is geared toward aspiring media and political communication experts. The program blends analytical and applied skills, giving students a grounding in the function and influence of the media. The most comprehensive strategic communication program in the heart of Washington, DC, this graduate program prepares students to achieve advocacy goals in today's fast-paced media environment.

Students learn to design and implement campaigns, develop messaging to target audiences, support campaigns, and encourage action. They perform analytics and data analysis and learn how to apply insights from media effects, public opinion and persuasion. They also gain the knowledge to advance their careers in fields of public and nonprofit management, government media relations, academia, or even public relations and communications consulting.

The flexible curriculum allows students to focus their studies on sustainability, science, public health, peacebuilding, or other public affairs issues.

ADMISSIONS

Admission deadlines: Fall – April 1 (February 1 for applicants applying for assistantships/fellowships);

Spring – October 1

Applications completed after these dates will be considered on a space-available basis only.

Standardized test scores: The GRE general is not required. However, if you feel as though submitting scores for the GRE will strengthen your application, you are welcome to submit them.

International students: The Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL), the academic International English Language Testing System (IELTS), or the PTE Academic is required of all applicants except those who hold a bachelor's, master's, or doctoral degree from a college or university in the United States or from an institution located in a country in which English is the official language, provided English was the language of instruction.

Minimum scores for the program are:

- Academic IELTS: an overall band score of 7.0 with no individual score below 6.; or

- TOEFL: 600 on paper-based or 100 on Internet-based; or

Recommendations: One (1) recommendation required; more than one required: two recommendations preferred.

Prior academic records: Transcripts are required from all colleges and universities attended, whether or not credit was earned, the program was completed, or the credit appears as transfer credit on another transcript. Unofficial transcripts from all colleges and universities attended must be uploaded to your online application. Official transcripts are required only of applicants who are offered admission.

If transcripts are in a language other than English, English language translations must be provided. The English translation alone should be uploaded into your application.

Statement of purpose: In an essay of 250 – 500 words, state your purpose in undertaking graduate study in your chosen field. Include your academic objectives, research interests, and career plans. Also discuss your related qualifications, including collegiate, professional, and community activities, and any other substantial accomplishments not already mentioned on the application. If you are applying for an assistantship or fellowship, you should also describe any teaching experience you have had.

International applicants: Please review International Applicant Information (<https://columbian.gwu.edu/international-graduate-applicants> (<https://columbian.gwu.edu/international-graduate-applicants/>)) carefully for details on required documents, earlier deadlines for applicants requiring an I-20 or DS-2019 from GW, and English language requirements.
