

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY IN THE FIELD OF INDUSTRIAL/ ORGANIZATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY (STEM)

The doctor of philosophy in industrial-organizational (I-O) psychology, offered through the Department of Organizational Sciences and Communication, delves into areas such as personnel selection, training and development, work motivation, and leadership. Working closely with advisors, PhD students often win awards for their research, and many present each year at conferences held by the Society for Industrial and Organizational Psychology and the Academy of Management.

The I-O psychology program is designed in accordance with guidelines established by the Society for Industrial and Organizational Psychology (SIOP; Division 14, APA). Graduates leave prepared for roles (<https://orgsciandcomm.columbian.gwu.edu/alumni-outcomes/>) in academia, government agencies, consulting firms, and the private sector.

This is a STEM designated program.

Visit the program website (<https://orgsciandcomm.columbian.gwu.edu/phd-i-o-psychology/>) for additional information.
