

DUAL MAED&HD IN THE FIELD OF CURRICULUM AND INSTRUCTION, INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES CONCENTRATION AND GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN LITERACY EDUCATION

The Graduate School of Education and Human Development offers a dual master of arts in education and human development in the field of curriculum and instruction, interdisciplinary studies concentration (<http://bulletin.gwu.edu/education-human-development/curriculum-pedagogy/education-human-development-curriculum-instruction-interdisciplinary-studies/>) and graduate certificate in literacy education (<http://bulletin.gwu.edu/education-human-development/curriculum-pedagogy/certificate-literacy-education/>). The 12 credits earned in the certificate program may be counted toward the master's. All requirements for both programs must be fulfilled.