

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN INTEGRATIVE NUTRITION AND LIFESTYLE MEDICINE

The graduate certificate in integrative nutrition and lifestyle medicine program takes an integrative medicine approach to healthcare with an emphasis on the role of diet and nutrition. Through integrated nutrition counseling, skills for which demand is rapidly increasing, graduates can help patients at any age improve their quality of life while empowering them to avoid or manage chronic diseases such as type 2 diabetes, obesity, and heart disease.

Visit the program website (<https://smhs.gwu.edu/bulletin/smhs/certificate/integrative-nutrition-lifestyle-medicine/>) for additional information.

ADMISSIONS

Admission deadlines: Fall - July 20

Spring - December 1

The application and all supporting documentation (fees, statement of purpose, letters of recommendation, transcripts) must be received by the deadline in order for the application to be reviewed.

Standardized test scores: Not required

Recommendations: Two (2) letters of recommendation.

required: Recommendations should be from an academic instructor who can strongly attest to your academic ability and/or someone who has served in a supervisory capacity for you and can strongly attest to your work ethic. Recommendations from family and friends are not accepted.

Prior academic records: Official transcripts are required from all colleges and universities attended (including via dual enrollment), whether or not credit was earned, the program was completed, or the credit appears as transfer credit on another transcript. Official transcripts must be forwarded in their original sealed envelopes or sent electronically directly from the institution.

If academic records are in a language other than English, a certified English language translation must be provided in addition to the original transcripts; translations alone will not be accepted.

Official transcripts from institutions outside the U.S. must be accompanied by an official transcript evaluation from an accredited independent evaluating agency. Please be sure you request a detailed evaluation that includes all course titles, credit hours, grades, U.S. degree equivalency, grade-point averages (GPA), and date of degree conferral. Please see the list of acceptable foreign credential evaluation services (<https://www.naces.org/members/>).

Statement of purpose: In an essay of approximately 250-500 words, describe your interest in undertaking study at The George Washington University. What are some of your academic objectives or career goals? Please highlight any of your related qualifications and achievements-- including academic, community, professional, or extra-curricular activities relevant to your program of interest. Include any substantial accomplishments not already mentioned within the application.

Prerequisites: 3 credit hours of Biochemistry and 3 credit hours of Anatomy or Anatomy / Physiology.

Degree and GPA Requirements: Bachelor's degree from a regionally-accredited institution

Cumulative GPA of 3.0 or above on a 4.0 scale

A medical degree or graduate degree in one of the core discipline areas is preferred.

Additional Requirement: Resume is required.

International Students: International students should check with individual programs regarding eligibility for visa sponsorship. Generally, online and hybrid programs are not eligible for student visa sponsorship from GW. This would include transfer students from any other institution with an existing visa.

Official transcripts from institutions outside the U.S. must be accompanied by an official transcript evaluation from an accredited independent evaluating agency. Please be sure you request a detailed evaluation that includes all course titles, credit hours, grades, U.S. degree equivalency, grade-point averages (GPA), and date of degree conferral. For a list of acceptable foreign credential evaluation services, please click here (<https://www.naces.org/members.php>).
